What's different with HSNO

- /// Person in Charge

- /// Test Certificates
 - Locations
 - Approved Handlers

- /// Transit depots

- /// Tracking

How it works in the future

Transit Depot

- /// Does not need a location certificate
- /// Providing store HS for less than 3 days, but
 - More than 2 hours for tracked substances
 - More than 18 hours for other HS
- /// Will probably need an approved handler

Approved Handler Approval Process

Approved Handler Equivalents Transport

- /// Road – ‘D’ endorsement
- /// Sea – Maritime Rules
- /// Air – CAA Rules
- /// Does not include:
 - Explosives
 - Tank Wagons
 - Loading aircraft for spraying or dropping

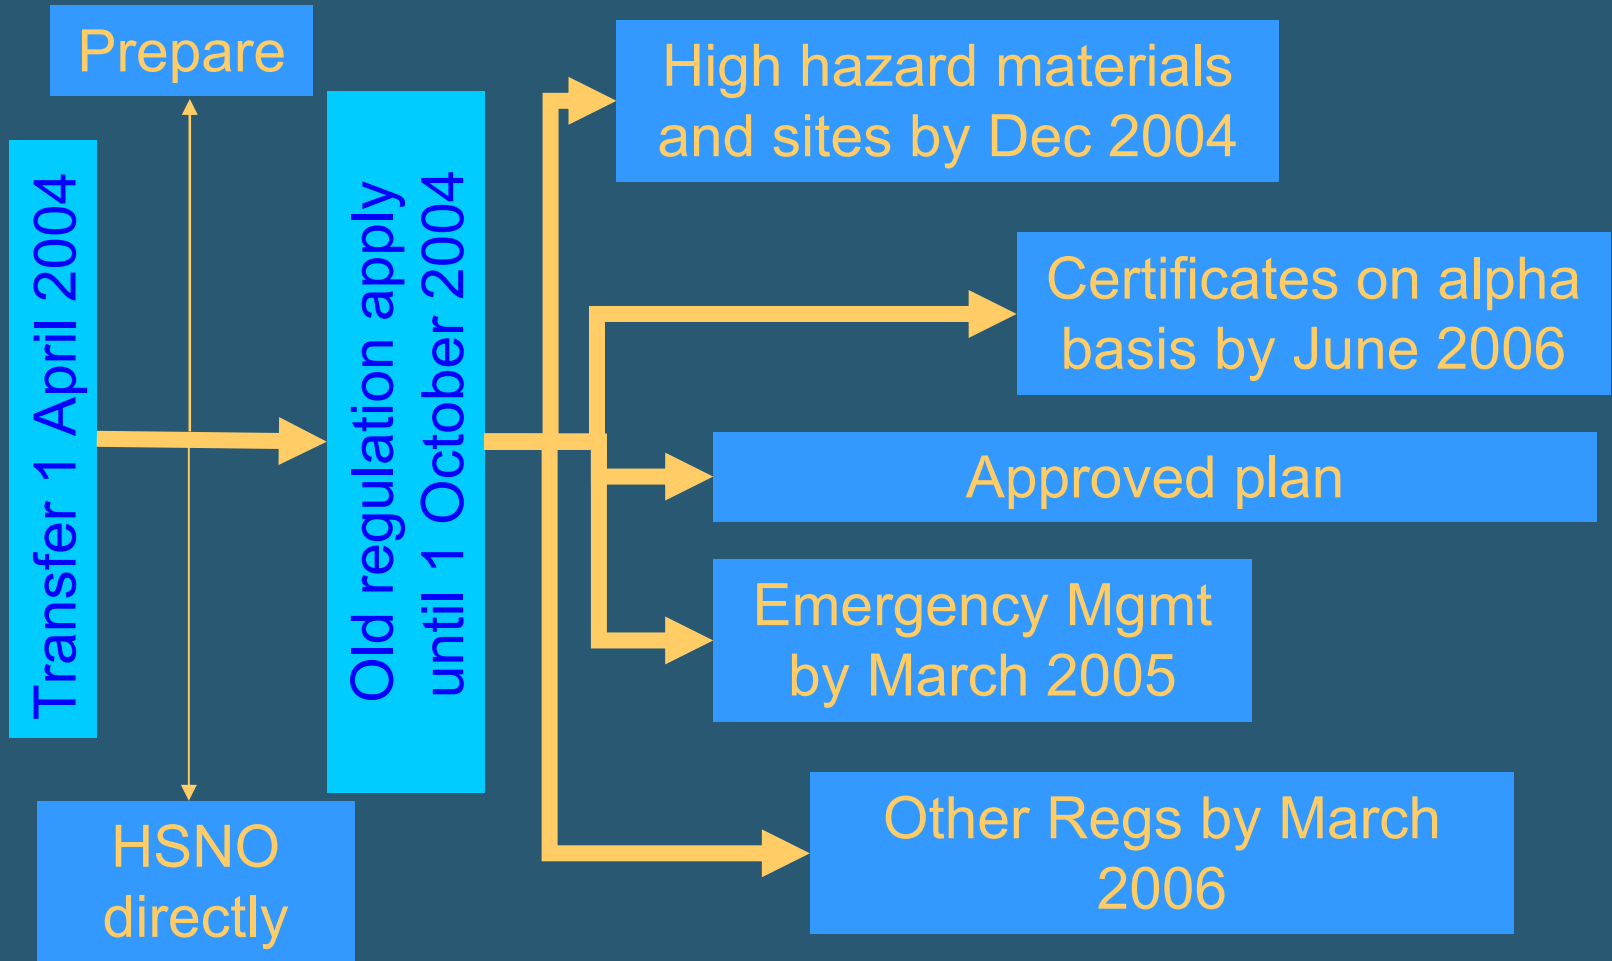

Tracking

- /// Only required for high hazard substances
- /// Responsibility with 'person in charge'
- /// Records at each stage of lifecycle
 - Manufacture / import through to disposal / use
- /// May only transfer if:
 - To an Approved Handler
 - To an approved location (for storage)
 - In transit complies with Emergency Management Regs and Transit Depot requirements

Packaging and Labelling

- /// UN transport packaging and labelling acceptable as far as the importers premises
- /// If repackaged must comply with HSNO
- /// Importer is responsible for compliance with HSNO

Staged Implementation for Class 2 to 5 (excluding Gases, Tank Wagon Regs & Bulk Containers)

Customs and HSNO

- /// Pesticides, explosives and PCBs have alerts
 - These will remain under HSNO
- /// Power to order export of unapproved substances
- /// The Stockholm Convention
 - substances banned 90 days after ratification

CBAFF Code of Practice

- /// Covers safe practice in handling UN classified Dangerous Goods
- /// Where relevant will be approved as a Code of Practice under HSNO
 - Will then form a defence in law

Communications

- /// Various publications available from our website.
- /// Step by step guides for industry sectors
- /// Pan industry guides for common issues
 - Eg Approved Handlers
